STOCKHOLM, Feb. 15—The [illegible] Leader Juhu Kusti [illegible] has conferred with the [illegible] minister to Sweden, [illegible] Alexandria Kollontay and [illegible] is to meet with her again, a Finnish legation source said [illegible].

Paasikivi, a former Finnish [illegible] minister, has been a leader in the faction seeking peace with Soviet Russia.

There were rumors that Russian terms for an armistice were [illegible] sent to Helsinki today, but no confirmation of these reports could be found.

LONDON, Feb. 15—Soviet Russia reported today to have told Finland that she has no designs upon Finnish territory, that if the Finns want peace they must surrender unconditionally and grant Russian use of all their air and sea bases as well as internal communications facilities.

London News-Chronicle in a dispatch from Stockholm said terms had been "intimated unofficially" to Finnish leaders and discussed recently in the Swedish capital presumably to sound out the Russians on the subject.

[illegible]. Farr, Stockholm, correspondent of the London Daily [illegible] declared:

"The impression I get is that [illegible] will be out of the war within a matter of weeks, and possibly [illegible].

"There was no confirmation of the reports, however, and neither Helsinki nor Moscow gave any indication contact had been established as a basis for negotiations.

"Despite Helsinki" dispatches, [illegible] by Finnish censors, said [illegible] no official indication [illegible] government had asked for [illegible] terms or was even ready [illegible].

"It is clear, however, the Finnish majority party—the Social [illegible] was putting strong pressure on the government and [illegible] intimations the issue precipitate a cabinet shake-[illegible].

"A summary of purely unofficial [illegible] gave this picture of the terms the Russians were said to have offered to the Finns:

"1—Finland to surrender unconditionally, to disarm and surrender all arms and equipment to Russia.

"2—Finland to permit Soviet occupation of her chief cities, railroads and air and sea bases [illegible] duration of the war against Germany.

"3—Finland to guarantee that the troops now in Finland—[illegible] to number about seven [illegible] would not be permitted [illegible].

"4—Finland to cede Russia the Petsamo.

"It was said to have indicated willingness to forego any [illegible] major territorial demands, [illegible] on the border established by the 1940 Finnish-Russian treaty with the exception [illegible] revisions.

"It also was reported ready to offer lease on the Hangoe [illegible] at the entrance to the Finland.

Thousands of Weary Germans Battle To Break from Trap

Nazis Fight To Escape Annihilation as Russians Close in After Taking Korsun.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 15—Tens of thousands of weary, hungry Germans, remnants of 10 attack divisions trapped in the Cherkassy death ring 12 days ago, fought desperately today to escape annihilation as Russian forces closed in relentlessly after seizing Korsun, core of the enemy's resistance.

German relief forces made a desperate attempt to succor their encircled comrades, but apparently were stopped with severe losses after driving a "slight wedge" into the Soviet cordon.

A Russian communique said at least 2,000 Nazis were killed and 73 tanks and 23 self-propelled guns destroyed or captured in the abortive attack, which was launched from enemy lines northwest of Zvenigorodka, 25 miles southwest of Korsun.

1,000 Nazis Killed

In storming Korsun, the Russians said they killed 1,000 Nazis, isolated another enemy unit and reduced the German position to an area of about 64 square miles on both sides of the Ross river between Korsun and the town of Stebley, eight miles to the west.

On the Baltic front other Red army forces were within 40 miles of Pskov, key to the Baltic states and western anchor of a German salient extending to Staraya Russa, 110 miles to the east. The Russians were sweeping south on a 70-mile-wide front between Lugand Lake Pieipus, Moscow said and captured several more towns yesterday to add to the 2,000 square miles of territory already liberated in their six-day drive.

Capture of Pskov would cut off from retreat German forces in the Lake Ilmen-Staraya Russa sector and would give the Russians a base for operations to clear the Germans from the Baltic states.

Nazis Fortify Pskov

Moscow dispatches said the Germans evidently intended to hold Pskov at all costs and were fortifying all villages, blowing up bridges and mining the roads in the path of the Red army advance.

German broadcasts admitted Russian pressure against Pskov was "increasing hourly," that Vi-

BRITISH BLOCK BAY OF BISCAY

Knox Reveals Move To Check Flow of Supplies Into Germany.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Secretary of the Navy Knox reported today that the British have clamped an embargo on shipping through the Bay of Biscay that will be a major step toward halting completely any movement of supplies into Germany.

He told a news conference the action parallels the efforts of the American fleet to halt blockade runners moving from Japanese-held ports with war materials vitally needed by Germany.

"It will reduce to a minimum and eventually eliminate transport of goods to Germany through France," he said.

Knox reported American carrier and land-based planes are "operating at will" in the Marshall islands area of the Pacific and are carrying out attacks on islands between the Marshalls and Truk, major Japanese naval base in the south Pacific.

He said islands in the eastern group of the Marshalls, cut off by American occupation of Kwajalein, are facing serious problems and that garrisons on those islands may face starvation.

Knox said American bombers throughout the mid-Pacific are meeting only meager Japanese fighter opposition and light anti-aircraft fire, indicating the enemy is short of ammunition and planes.

In the South Pacific, he reported American air forces are "vigorously pounding away" at Japanese installations in and around Rabaul which he said has "practically lost its usefulness as a major base."

Knox, referring to them as "the humor department," quoted Tokyo broadcasts asserting that since the first of the year 1,065 American planes have been shot down in action in the Rabaul area. On the contrary, he said, our losses there "I think are approximately 30 or 40 planes."

Knox reported in connection with the Bay of Biscay embargo that he believed it would halt any attempts at smuggling goods into France or Germany from Spain. "There has been considerable of that going on," he asserted.

REPORT ROME BOMBED

LONDON, Feb. 15—The Rome radio said that Rome was bombed at 10:30 a. m. today. "Allied planes dived down to machine-gun the population," the broadcast asserted.

YANKS SEIZE ANOTHER ISLE IN JAP AREA

Occupation of Rooke Improves Allied Position in Southwest Pacific.

By The Associated Press

The steadily improved position of the United Nations in the southwest Pacific was enhanced further today by American occupation of a small but strategic island between New Guinea and New Britain.

In contrast with earlier battles for enemy territory, U. S. troops seized Rooke (Umboi) island unopposed Saturday to complete the encirclement of both Vitiaz and Dampier straits along the vital supply line for the Bismarck archipelago.

Japanese airmen attacked American positions at Cape Gloucester and Arawe, New Britain, Torokina, Bougainville; and, for the first time since the central Pacific campaign, struck at Roi island of captured Kwajalein atoll in the Marshalls. Damage and casualties generally were reported as light.

The enemy, possibly to save its aircraft for major defense operations, showed scant opposition to allied raids on Nipponese bases in the southwest and central Pacific.

200 Planes Hit Rabaul

More than 200 allied planes fought through a curtain of aerial interceptors and intense anti-aircraft fire to dump an additional 179 tons of bombs on three airdromes at Rabaul, New Britain. The raiders lost three aircraft to seven for the Japanese.

Two enemy planes were smashed on the ground in a 147-ton assault of Kavieng, New Ireland, which drew not a single enemy fighter into the air. Seven more parked aircraft were destroyed at Wewak, northeastern New Guinea, where again there was no interception.

Disinclination of the Japanese to fight it out in the sky was shown as well in yesterday's announcement of the three-day hammering of Eniwetok atoll in the Marshalls by U. S. carrier-based planes. Although the island is regarded as one of the enemy's prime stepping stones from Truk, Japanese naval bastion in the Caroline island, Navy fliers carried out their attacks without fighter opposition or ground fire.

Navy aircraft also struck at Ujelang, midway between Eniwetok and Ponape, important Japanese base in the Carolines group, at Utirik and Ujae, on the western side of the Marshalls, while army bombers and fighters attacked unidentified atolls in the Marshalls.

Occupation of Rooke island without the firing of a shot indicated the Japanese had abandoned it as untenable. Long island, northwest of Rooke, was taken Dec. 26 when the Americans invaded Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

Since then, U. S. and Australian forces have eradicated the Japanese from the Huon peninsula of New Guinea and, across Vitiaz strait, enlarged their holdings at Cape Gloucester. American Marines today were reported 21 miles east of the Cape Gloucester airdrome which they captured soon after landing on the western tip of the island.

$1 Goes To County "Conscience Fund"

Marion county's "conscience fund" in the county treasurer's office was richer by $1 and some Marion county resident probably slept a little better than usual last night as the result of a letter and a $1 bill received yesterday by County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin.

The letter: "I would like for you to put this $1 in the treasury of Marion county. (Signed) One Who Is Honest."

Treasurer Hinklin put the $1 in the general fund, figuring the sender probably owed the money on taxes of past years or for some other reason was indebted to the county.

The sender, apparently feeling "the better the day the better the deed," appropriately selected Sunday to mail the conscience money. It was postmarked at the Marion postoffice Sunday night at 10 o'clock.

Supply of Gas Remains Short

More Freezing Weather Prevents Restoration of Full Service.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 15—Forecast of more freezing weather today halted the Ohio Fuel Gas company's plans to restore service to all of the approximately 150 industries whose fuel supplies were shut off Sunday because of a gas shortage.

The emergency probably will continue throughout this week, company officials said, although some industries received gas again yesterday when the mercury climbed to above freezing from the below-zero readings of the day before.

The company, which serves most of Ohio except the northeast section, asked individual consumers to shut off water heaters and cook only one hot dish a day to conserve gas.

M. K. Hager of the war production board's limited fuel supplies to some war plants for production of critical materials. Thousands of workers were made idle by the service curtailments.

The weather bureau predicted a temperature drop to about 20 degrees above zero by tomorrow morning.

Snow covered the state [illegible] two to nine inches deep.

Agriculture experts said the snow was worth millions of dollars to Ohio farmers whose crop prospects had been threatened by a winter-long drought.

The mercury rose as high as 36 degrees yesterday at Cincinnati, 35 at Columbus and 32 at Cleveland, turning the snow into slush.

Columbus reported the greatest snowfall in the state—five inches, making a total of nine since Saturday.

Gas Released To Marion Plants

Gas was released to Marion industries this morning after [illegible] had gone since Sunday [illegible] using the fuel even for [illegible].

Charles E. Sechrist, [illegible] manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., said the factories were notified in mid-morning that they could resume use of gas, but were cautioned that another shortage of the supply may become necessary if another cold wave [illegible] this week as forecast.

"The gas emergency is not over by any means, and it will take the cooperation of all domestic consumers to make it possible to keep the factories supplied," [illegible] emphasized.

The only previous development came yesterday afternoon, when one factory was given service on recommendation of a war production representative from Washington who came to Columbus to advise with gas company officials about procedure in restoring service to factories. The representative until this morning were [illegible] made in the order of the importance [illegible].

New High School Recreation Center To Open Soon at 'Y'

Nearly All Funds Provided for Program Sponsored by Service Club and Backed by Schools, Y and Industries.

The movement begun several months ago by the Y's Men's Service club to provide greatly expanded facilities at the Y. M. C. A. for wholesome, supervised recreation rooms for Marion's boys and girls of high school age was nearing its final stages today, with work scheduled to start soon to get equipment installed and operations begun.

The club has been given warm support in many quarters in the recent weeks it has been working out final details of its plans which are without parallel in the city's history. The city schools, the Y. M. C. A. board, businessmen and industrial officials have backed the program, and a considerable portion of the $3,000 the club figured would be needed to do the job right has already been donated.

W. K. Luse, chairman of the Y's Men's Service club committee directing the project, disclosed this morning that the club's original program has been substantially expanded since the movement was begun. This has been made possible by the willingness of the Y. M. C. A. to turn over an additional room.

Two Recreation Rooms

"This makes it possible for us to go ahead with the originally planned recreation room, which is approximately 45 by 60 feet, and have another room, about 25 by 50, which we plan to convert into a large soda fountain with tables and booths," Mr. Luse said.

Again, he emphasized that the rooms and their equipment are to be available to all Marion boys and girls of high school age, and that the project will be operated as a club. The existing Club Co-ed which has held a series of weekly dances at the Y with several adults assisting the high school students in their plans, will be expanded in the new program, and the club will continue to be known as Club Co-ed. The students will make their own rules. There will be an adult hostess on hand to operate the soda fountain and generally supervise the activities after school hours. Members of the Y's Men's Service club will act as chap-

$1,000 DAMAGE IN BOWLING ALLEY FIRE

Capt. O. C. Stafford Suffers Face Burns Fighting Blaze.

Cigaret sparks ignited lacquer to be used to paint alleys at the Palace Recreation center bowling alleys at 7 a. m. today, causing damage estimated at between $900 and $1,000.

According to city firemen who answered the call, workers were preparing the lacquer but had not begun to apply it to the alleys. Loss was confined to bowling pins stored at the rear of the building and paints and lacquers also in storage.

Capt. O. C. Stafford of the fire department had his face scorched while fighting flames. Neither of the two employes of the recreation center on duty at the time of the fire was injured.

The call was answered by No. 1 truck and quad unit from Central station.

City firemen answered a call at the Brunswick cafe at 147 North Main street about 4 p. m. yesterday. The fire started in cartons and barrels which had been placed too near to the furnace in a basement room. The only damage resulting from the blaze was loss of the cartons and barrels. The call was answered by No. 1 truck and quad unit from Central station.

19,794 in Job Insurance Paid Here in January

Unemployment compensation payments totaled $9,794.29 in the Marion area during January, Fred B. Scherff, manager of the United States Employment Service and representative of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in this area said today. The average weekly number of benefit recipients in the area was 148, he added.

Benefit payments for the entire state totaled $120,602. Mr. Scherff said he had been informed by Administrator Hugh S. Jenkins at Columbus. This represented an increase of 47 per cent over December payments, yet was more than 60 per cent lower than the amount paid to unemployed workers during January a year ago.

STATE MILK LAW UPHELD IN RULING

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15—Forty-four greater Cleveland dairies were forced to suspend operations today after Common Pleas Judge Joy Seth Hurd upheld constitutionality of the Ohio milk law, which directs that financial statements or bonds be provided before the state department of agriculture grants milk dealers licenses.

The dairies petitioned the court to force the agriculture department to grant licenses without financial statements or bonds. They charged the law deprived them of property without due process, and the fact imposed improper restrictions on their property rights.

Judge Hurd ruled the state can regulate fluid milk industry for the common good because milk is "one of the most essential items of daily diet."

In granting State Agriculture Director John T. Brown an injunction restraining the dairies "from further violation of the law," Judge Hurd noted that 1,700 other milk dealers had registered properly with the department. He upheld Brown's petition that the purpose of the law was to protect 80,000 Ohio milk producers by stabilizing the market and preventing "dishonest methods that have been practiced to the detriment of and discrimination against producers."

Army Flier Praises Marion CAP, Hopes We'll Get a Better Airport

If Marion residents are curious about what outsiders may think or lack of them, they may be interested in the letter that Capt. Vernon E. Wickman, a deputy squadron commander in an Air Corps unit at Punta Gorda, Fla., recently wrote to W. B. Reinenstein, head of Marion's Civil Air Patrol organization.

Capt. Wickman's opinions are flavored by the experience he had when his plane bogged down in a muddy runway at the port, but his reaction in the letter is to urge some constructive action rather than complain about the situation he found here.

His letter follows:

"I want to express my sincere appreciation to you and the personnel in your squadron for all the assistance given me while at the Marion Municipal Airport Jan. 28 and 29.

"Jean Wood (Miss Wood is a corporal in the Marion CAP organization) and Bill (William Emberton, a warrant officer in the CAP) were especially helpful and practically bent over backwards to do all they could for me. At no airport which I have visited have I ever received more cheerful assistance than at your field. It was most exasperating, of course, to have become mired in the mud, especially when I was in such a hurry to leave, but my delay would have been prolonged much more than it was if your squadron hadn't been available to dig me out.

"I hope that the citizens of Marion know what a fine job you are doing to promote their city as far as flying is concerned. It seems a shame that such a fine industrial city should lack the civic pride and foresight to build itself a modern airport. Commercial air transport will expand a hundred-fold when this war is over and every young progressive city should be planning today to have a part in this profitable expansion. I hope your efforts towards this end will be successful.

"Once again, my thanks to you and your gang, and here's hoping you continue to 'keep 'em flying'."

Tiffin University Now a War Training Center

Tiffin University was placed by official action of the Board of Trustees some months past, at the disposition of the Federal Government to be utilized in any manner practicable in behalf of the war effort. As a consequence, Tiffin U. became a Training Center for the training of Secretarial workers.

Opportunity To Earn While You Learn

High school graduates who have had training in shorthand and typing in high school, may now take an intensive advanced refresher course in these subjects, and receive $110, $120, and as high as $130 per month, and additional free tuition and books, while in training. They must necessarily accept employment either in the office of some industrial war plant, or some agency of the Government intimately associated with the war effort on the completion of their courses. They receive from $160 to $150 per month as soon as employed in the office of their educational sponsor—either an industrial war plant or some department of government intimately associated with the war program.

New trainee groups are admitted weekly. High school graduates only with a good average or better scholastic record, who possess good personality, and who can submit character references, are eligible for admission as an employee-trainee to the War Emergency Training Division of the college.

Compensation at $125 to $130 per month starts the day training begins. For full information address,

Marion County Red Cross War Fund Drive To Start March 1

Leaders Named for Campaign To Raise $56,000 as Community's Share of Wartime Services' Cost.

March 1 to March 31 has been set for the annual Red Cross War ... drive to be sponsored in Marion city and county by the local ... of the National Red Cross. A goal of $56,000 has been set ... year's drive, which will be headed by J. Douglas Torrance. ... B. Willey will serve as assistant chairman and will be in ... of the drive activities in the villages and communities ... about the county.

... for the drive and chairmen heads of the divisions announced today by Robert ... chairman of the Marion County chapter. Headquarters will be in the Red Cross production room at 149 East Center street in the rooms formerly occupied by the Postal Telegraph Co and the first door west of Hotel Marion. The headquarters will open Friday, Feb. 18.

In discussing his plans for the campaign Chairman Torrance said this year's drive will follow a different plan than in former years. According to the plans outlined there will be a special gifts committee for solicitation of all business and industries but no solicitation of employes in these places. All solicitations aside from industries and business places will be made in a house-to-house canvass which will get under way March 1. The canvass in the residential district will be conducted by women of the city.

Quota Is Higher

Marion city and county's share of the $200,000,000 to be raised by the National chapter is higher than last year's quota by $20,000, figures show. This is accounted for, Chairman Torrance points out, by the increased demands on the services and wartime activities, which are mounting as more and more men are going into service and thousands more are being moved into war areas in foreign lands. Marion county alone has more than 4,000 men and women in the armed forces, he states. One-fourth of the money raised is used to carry on the work of the local chapter and the remainder is sent to the National chapter. Ninety per cent of the increase asked this year will be used for services to the armed forces.

The National chapter covers worldwide activities and includes services to men and women in the armed forces, and their families, home front services, foreign war relief, disaster relief and civilian war aid, and health, education and safety services.

Shares Computed

In setting up the city and county quotas it is found that in order to reach the goal the share for each home will be a minimum of $5, the campaign heads state. Solicitors, when contacting these homes will be prepared to explain the work of the American Red Cross, as well as show why it is necessary at this time that each family contribute its full share. Figures show that the services provided for each man and woman, girl and boy in the armed forces is $20 per year. The raising of Marion's quota of $56,000 will provide $14 of that amount. The difference, the campaign committee points out, is made up by the National chapter through contributions in the metropolitan centers. The Red Cross, statistics show, is the only organization administering to the men and women of the armed forces now serving in foreign camps. "We feel there will be a number of families who will want to give an amount equal to the support of services for at least one boy," Chairman Torrance states.

Co-Chairmen Named

Earl Pierce and Wilson B. Tway will serve as co-chairmen of the special gifts committee. Other chairmen are: Clarence Shockney, small industries; Harold Nussbaum and Walter Johnson, uptown independent retail stores; William P. Brown, national stores; Wilfred Schwemfurth and Earl Andrews, physicians, dentists, attorneys and insurance men; Mrs. C W. Smoot, residential; budget committee, J. W. Llewellyn, chairman, Carroll W. Davidson, G. E. Hammond, Don Hamilton and Homer D. Cole; headquarters, Miss Esther Guthery; speakers E. E. Holt; churches, Rev. Eldred Johnston; posters, Hugh Hay; flags, Lowell Hamburg; window displays, Robert Ewers and Maxine Darling; auditors, William Anderson.

Clubs, lodges or other organizations desiring speakers to explain the purpose or activities of the Red Cross are asked to contact Chairman Holt at 5293.

"Hats off to Studebaker for cars that stand up in wartime"

SAYS W. M. Byrd, engineer on a U. S. Navy job at Bay City, Michigan: "My hat's off to Studebaker. You're certainly right when you say the Studebaker Champion is engineered to save an owner money and built to withstand hard punishment.
"I know. I've owned three Champions. The one I'm now driving, a 1941 model, has 31,000 miles on it and its tires look good for 30,000 miles more.
"My two previous Champions gave me remarkable mileage over rugged West Virginia mountain roads.
"On the three Champions, my total maintenance bills, outside of proper servicing, did not exceed $40."
Mr. Byrd's experience, after two years of war, is matched by that of many other Studebaker owners.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Feb. 16

THE FORECAST for this day encourages the intelligent, resourceful and enterprising grasp of elements at hand for improving the business, professional and other advantages that seem to await a quick grasp in decisive directions, by means of well-thought ideas, fresh programs and keen insight into improving situations. This possibly against some tenacious obstacles or stubborn impediment. Persistence, patience and clever work, without contention or arguments, and minus financial hazard, should solve difficulties. Perhaps change, travel, dealing with agencies may assist, but avoid litigation.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which definite progress and advancement are possible, but under well-organized programs, swift grasp of opportunities, but within accepted codes and tenets, in case there should be legal or other disagreeable involvements, arguments or strife. The mental energies, in cleverly worked out ideas, may break up opposition, impediments or other frustrating circumstances. Change, travel, agencies, new tactics, may be successful but be careful in the matter of unwarranted financial outlay. Be thrifty.

A child born on this day may have prospects for a progressive career by its trend to the new and original, possibly in professional lines. Its tendency to extravagance might involve it with the law or offend superiors.

When Better Insurance is Sold We Will Sell It.

Piles Are Never 'Mild'
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.
If, therefore, you are distressed by what you have regarded as only a "mild" case of piles, do not, by any means, allow that to be a reason for neglecting them.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, requires no anaesthetic nor the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.
There is no undue exposure, and you will find that the dignity with which the examination is conducted will quickly make you lose any feeling of self consciousness.
Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

THE approaching marriage of Miss Nelda Crabtree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Crabtree of 147 Blaine avenue, to Aviation Cadet George T. Webb, son of Mrs. Kirby L. Phillips of Oneida, Tenn., was announced at a dinner given at Hotel Harding last night by Mrs. Crabtree.

The table was centered with an all white floral arrangement and was lighted with tall blue candles, carrying out the bride's colors. A model airplane placed in front of Mrs. Dan Carskadden of Rochester, N. Y., held a note announcing the wedding which will take place some time around the middle of March in Oneida.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Harding High school, class of 1943, and was formerly employed at the May Jewelry Co. store. Cadet Webb graduated from Tennessee Military Institute and attended The Citadel in South Carolina. He is now stationed at Lubbock Army Air Field, Lubbock, Tex. He has been in the service one year.

Guests at the announcement party were Mrs. F. D Flockencier, Mrs. Robert Jordan, Mrs. Pete Cutarelli, Mrs. Charles Francis, Mrs. Leroy Harvey, Mrs. William Langdon, Mrs. George Galloway, Miss Joan Dixon, Miss Naomi Garfield, Miss Jane Gilbert, and Miss Phyllis Acker. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Carskadden of Rochester and Mrs. J. Lewis Hafer of LaRue.

Mrs. Fred Slob of near Marion, entertained thirty guests Saturday evening in honor of her husband's birthday. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. Walter Slob, Mrs. Martin Slob, William Jones, and Fred Holt. Walter Bender was an out-of-town guest.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Slob entertained with a chili supper for her brother, Pfc. Clarence M. Holt, who was spending a 21-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Holt of 1044 Cheney avenue. Pfc. Holt has been stationed in the Panama Canal zone for two years. He has left for Camp Shelby, Miss., where he is now stationed. Other guests present Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. George Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Noble and children, Fred Holt, and Betty, Jerry, and Junior Slob.

Mrs. William Stonebraker of Forest street entertained the Eldorado Literary club when it held its anniversary party last Tuesday. A collections was taken for the infantile paralysis fund. Miss Demeril Hafer was in charge of the social hour, which was patterned after an old-fashioned box social. Mrs. William Busch and Mrs. Albert Loeb won contest awards. The club's radio program will be heard over WMRN Thursday, at 10:30 p. m. Mrs. John C. Zuck will be in charge.

Mrs. Robert Jameson of Wayne, Mich., was a week-end guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mayne Gorton of 232 South High street.

Marion Man In Navy Married To Miss Alice Linde

WORD has been received here of the marriage of Petty Officer First Class Wilford Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith of 239 Pearl street, and Miss Alice Linde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Linde of North Bergen, N. J.

The single ring ceremony was performed in "The Little Church Around the Corner," New York City, on Feb. 5 at 7 p. m. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A wedding dinner was served at the Commodore Hotel in New York following the ceremony.

Petty Officer Smith is a graduate of Harding High school, class of 1935 and attended O. T. S. at Columbus. He has recently been assigned to a cruiser. He was employed in Marion at the H. Schaffner Co., and before entering the U. S. Coast Guard two years ago was employed by the General Electric Co. in Schenectady. The new Mrs. Smith is a secretary at the Norden Bomb factory in New York City.

Miss Simmons and D. C. Vermillion of U. S. Navy Wed

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. SIMMONS of 507 Mound street are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Martha, to Petty Officer First Class, Darrel C. Vermillion, son of F. B. Vermillion and the late Mrs. Vermillion of 1095 Davids street.

The wedding was solemnized Sunday morning at the Oakland Evangelical church immediately following the church service. Rev. Clyde Wendell of Toledo performed the single ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. R. Dallas. Mrs. Clyde Wendell, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the organ. Her selections were "Indian Love Call," "Living for Jesus," and "Because."

The bride chose for her wedding a Navy blue ensemble with which she wore light blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple received their friends informally at the church before leaving on their wedding trip.

The new Mrs. Vermillion is a graduate of Harding High school and Marion college, Marion, Ind. She is employed as a first grade teacher at Glenwood school. Mr. Vermillion is a graduate of Harding High school and before his enlistment in the Navy, was employed by the Isaly Dairy Co. He is now at home on a 30-day furlough from Trinidad, where he is stationed.

Chaplain Dean Vermillion, brother of the bridegroom, who was to have assisted in the ceremony, was unable to arrive in time, due to weather conditions. He arrived Sunday night.

Lecture-Recital Junior Group at Alspach Home

The Junior Lecture Recital club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Barbara Alspach of 510 South Vine street.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the National Junior hymn, accompanied by Miss Erma Jean Hensel, followed by the club collect.

The roll call consisted of answering with the names of composers of popular music.

Ann Swink had the study topic, which was "Popular Music That Will Live Permanently." This topic, in the form of a round table discussion, was given by Patricia Schill.

The hymn study, "Light of the World We Hail Thee," John Monsell, was presented by Mrs. E. N. Hale.

The program consisted of the following:

Miss Elaine Alexander, vocalist, sang low numbers, "Summer Time," and "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning." Miss Jean Lockwood sang "Night and Day," and "Lover Come Back To Me." Miss Wanda McMahan was accompanist for the vocalists. Miss Patricia Blank, pianist, played "Concerto in B flat Minor," sometimes known as "Tonight We Love."

The report of progress in Juvenile club's war bond sales and achievements was given by Barbara Hedges. Two new members who are vocalists were welcomed, Miss Diana Cheney and Miss Phyllis Horne.

The meeting was closed with the saying of the new club collect and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Guests were Miss Wanda McMahan and a student at Bowling Green university, Miss Jean Olewiler, who is a former member.

Two Donald Lee Smiths Cause No Confusion

By The Associated Press

U. S. SUBMARINE BASE, Groton, Conn., Feb. 15—About the only difference between a couple of men attending the submarine school here is that one comes from Arkansas City, Kans., and the other from White Deer Valley, Pa.

Each is named Donald Lee Smith. Each was born August 3. Each is a seaman, second class. The father of each is named H. L. Smith.

But, says the Navy, each gets his own duds back from the laundry, White Deer Valley Smith hasn't received any mail from Arkansas City Smith's girl nor has either Smith had to take the other's typhoid shot.

RUSSIA

tebsk, in upper White Russia, was under constant Russian artillery fire and that Red army troops were attacking southwest of Krivoi Rog, iron city 150 miles below the Cherkasy pocket.

Berlin also asserted that Luga, which fell into Russian hands on Sunday, was abandoned without a fight in order to shorten axis lines. Moscow, however, declared it was taken by storm and said enormous war stocks were captured.

Red Front Drawing Nearer Berlin

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 15 — With the Russian front pushed as close to Berlin from the east as the English channel is from the west, the Red air force is coming into position and strength to take over its share of ruining the reich with bombs.

Soviet air experts are known to have made a close study of the American style of strategic air bombing, and may pattern Russian long-range raiding after the Fortress-Liberator tactics.

Strategic bombing—long range raids to cripple German war power—is virtually a new field for the Red air force which has concentrated almost exclusively on tactical bombing, supporting ground operations.

The United States has furnished Russia with fighters and light bombers but is not known to have sent any Fortresses or Liberators. The Russians, however, have developed four-engined TB-7S, a heavily armed raider capable of carrying a two-ton bomb load within a 2,500-mile range.

Girl Scouts Take On a Variety Of Projects at Marion City Hospital

Needs of City hospital for materials will be supplied by Marion Girl Scout troops in the near future as troops throughout the city take on projects listed by hospital officials. Among materials needed are newspaper pads covered with muslin, which are used as bed pads, bedside bags made of large brown paper sacks, 100 signs stencilled with the words "No Visitors," scrap books, magazines and toys. In addition, Girl Scouts are collecting wire coat hangers to meet the need for 400 in rooms at the hospital.

All articles mentioned were requested by Mrs. Margaret Bradbury, hospital superintendent and will be made or collected by all troops in the city. Miss Edith Treat, Marion Girl Scout executive, explained that troops may take on more than one project but that all will participate. Mrs. Ben T. Wiant, program chairman of Marion Girl Scout council, arranged for undertaking the projects.

Troop 5, a senior troop, which is led by Mrs. A. W. Kette and meets at the American Legion Dugout, has volunteered to dust and clean up the new addition of the hospital before it is opened. Older girls have been asked to entertain the children in the wards.

Members of Troop 9 at Oakland Heights school and Troop 20 at Pearl Street school are taking a nutrition course once a week at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. under the guidance of Miss Mary Heldman, home service director. Those completing the course satisfactorily will receive a food merit badge.

Troop 9, led by Miss Martha Simmons is taking a first aid course instructed by Mrs. Hazel Price.

Troop 16 at Vernon Junior High school made favors for Valentine day to be placed on hospital trays. Troop 17 members, also at Vernon Junior High school, are earning their book binding badge. Members will repair and rebind text books under the supervision of Cecil Gabler, principal of the school.

Gaily painted spool dolls for children, who are patients at the hospital, are the project of Brownie pack 22 at Greenwood school. Other Girl Scout activities are saving tax stamps, sports, parties, preparing for summer camp days and Red Cross work.

Cuyahoga Co. To Restore Soldiers to Voting List

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15—Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan today assured the joint veterans commission no suit would be necessary to compel the election board to restore the names of 40,000 service men and women stricken from the registration list because of failure to cast ballots in two consecutive elections.

In a written opinion sent to the election board Cullitan declared citizens in uniform "are entitled to vote as fully as if they were present at their respective places of residence."

He added, "we do not have a great deal of patience with the puttering and stalling prevalent in legislative bodies about how the men and women in the armed service of our country shall be allowed to vote."

NEW CAVEIN WAVE THREATENS CITY

By The Associated Press

PITTSTON, Pa., Feb. 15 — A new wave of fear swept this anthracite city of 16,000 today after two yawning holes opened in the earth and a "squeeze," caused by the sagging of mine pillars, threatened to sink the ground from under large residential areas.

Mine experts said the squeeze might portend a general weakening of tunnel supports and a wholesale cavein.

Mayor John J. Reilly and city and state legislators arranged a hurried trip to the Pennsylvania state capitol at Harrisburg to ask the state bureau of mines for help, possibly in flooding abandoned tunnels.

Sections of the city were roped off temporarily yesterday after new cracks appeared, one a few feet from the spot where Julia Ann Fulmer, 2, was swallowed alive when the earth gave away under her feet last week. The other occurred in an area where 150 homes were damaged a year ago when the earth's surface dropped six to eight feet below its normal level.

TVA REPORTS RESULTS
By International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Contributions of the Tennessee Valley Authority to the war effort in 1943 were reported by the TVA in its annual report to the President and congress. TVA said it had generated 9,000,000 kilowatthours of electric power, three-quarters of which were used for war purposes. It also produced "large quantities" of ammonia, ammonium nitrate and elemental phosphorous for munitions and calcium carbide for synthetic rubber.

The English language contains about 700,000 words in good repute.

SAYS JAPS NOT GOOD SOLDIERS

Start Running When They "Lose Face," Reports Marine Captain.

By International News Service
CHICAGO — "They ought to be raising roses on cherry trees," was the way Marine Capt. Wilfred S. LeFrancois expressed his contempt for Jap soldiers.

The officer, recently passed through Chicago enroute to his home in Watertown, N. Y., on leave.

"They aren't soldiers. They are pepped up with propaganda; some of them with dope. They are aggressive because of the propaganda. But when a Jap loses face he starts running, and soon we won't be able to catch up with them."

The captain made his observation about the enemy soldiers in describing the Makin island raid. During the battle, a handful of Marines fought a superior band of Japs who maintained an outpost there to outflank and harass Guadalcanal.

With Lieut. Col. James Roosevelt, Capt. LeFrancois led detachments ashore in rubber boats through roaring surf, destroyed radio stations and installations, and escaped in submarines.

A veteran of 13 years in the Marines, he received two wounds and still has fragments of an explosive bullet in his shoulder.

The Makin island raiders had received the most rigorous training of its kind in the world, the captain said. Originally, it had been planned to land 15,000 men in the raid, but the number was trimmed until only about 200 men participated.

The raid, which lasted 40 hours, began Aug. 17. The Marines withdrew before reinforcements could be landed. During the withdrawal, boats were turned over by the heavy surf and waves, Capt. LeFrancois explained.

Capt. LeFrancois, who is unmarried, said he joined the Marines in 1940 because he disliked his merchandising job. He has served in Central America, China, and on the U. S. S. Quincy.

Experts Identify Trappers' "Freak"

By The Associated Press
LANSING, Mich. — Trappers have caught what they described as a weird-looking freak, but state conservation game experts determined that the animal is nothing more than a rare star-nosed mole.

The mole derives its name from 20 red feelers forming a star around the sharp nose. Half as big as a ground mole, the creature has a bright red tail, constricted at the base and swollen to a size almost as large as the entire body. Its eyes are tiny and give an appearance of blindness.

Game experts said the star-nosed mole is rare because it remains under water much of the time and carefully avoids human attention.

Former German Minister Says Nazi Youth "Bullied"

By The United Press
BERKELEY, Cal. — Gottfried Treviranus, former German minister of transportation under the Weimar Republic, has pleaded for decent postwar treatment of Germany's youth, who he said had been "bullied into thinking that Nazi doctrines are right."

He predicted that a lasting peace could be assured only after the youth of Europe had been given a measure of freedom, which has been unknown to most European children.

He said that German victims of tyranny after the last war were easy prey for Hitler's regime and added:

"I see no chance of any in-between solution." Treviranus, however, said, "There must be an all-out victory."

He spoke before an audience of 2,000 in the men's gymnasium on the University of California campus.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. No cooking needed. It's no trouble.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

As for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, and makes breathing easy. If not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Mr. Wallace has a Good One

VICE President Henry A. Wallace has a good idea about post-war employment—a council composed of government, business and labor representatives to advise congress, the chief executive and the public on jobs. The vice president compares this with the existing war production board.

WPB was called into existence to expedite manufacture of war material. Immediately, it had to resolve within itself the issue between those who had confidence in private enterprise to do the job if the government cleared the way and those who wouldn't trust private enterprise any further than they could throw their brief cases. The brief case throwers came in second.

The same issue would have to be fought all over again on the matter of pre-war jobs. The enemies of private enterprise will come back strong. They have had to take a back seat during the war while private enterprise worked on war production, but they have not given up hope. Unless their grudge fight can be brought to a showdown in a central agency, the way it was brought to a showdown in WPB, they will snipe at the private enterprise system from every quarter.

They already have adopted a policy of blackmailing private enterprise by threatening to give it the blame if every person who wants a job isn't employed immediately and continuously on his own terms from the end of the war ad infinitum. But when private enterprise so much as suggests that in order to fill so large an order it will need to have the complete confidence and cooperation of government, they accuse it of seeking special privilege. That's why Mr. Wallace's idea is good. There should be a council. It should be a representative council; that is, it should give the advocates of private enterprise a chance to come to grips directly with the enemies of private enterprise. The United States can't stand divided in peace any more successfully than it did in war.

Ships, Planes, Men—and Initiative

THE news from the latest fresh campaign against Japan in the Pacific is encouraging. It shows beyond doubt that the United States has the ships, planes and men to do the job. But more than that it shows that the men have the initiative.

Japan is on the defensive. It has been there ever since its drive to reach Australia was turned back. It was put there by American military tactics which caught the Japanese off guard and has been kept there by aggressive use of the equipment and manpower available.

Daring may lose some of the battles ahead, but it will win more than it loses. It is the indeterminate factor in war—the factor that made the United States look bad at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese used it and the factor that since then has turned the tables.

What goes on in the minds of the imperial warriors in Tokyo is anyone's guess, but it will not be surprising to hear from there almost any day now that the despised Americans are not fighting fair. They insist on hitting hard where it is not convenient to be hit hard. Worst of all, they insist on winning the battles at any expense and embarrassing the enemy by making him win all his victories on the radio. They are still a long way from Japan, but closer than even they expected to be six months ago.

They're Your Tires

TRANSPORTATION in this country is so heavily dependent on automobiles and trucks to give it flexibility and breadth that it could be jammed up in a day if private automobiles were taken out of use.

This fact is at the bottom of very real official concern over the tire situation. The ordinary car-owning public can't do anything about the tire supply problem in general, but every automobile owner can do something about his tires in particular.

He holds those tires in trust for the nation's security. In many cases, perhaps in most cases, they must last for the duration of the war. Even if new tire production under existing handicaps could be trebled and quadrupled, it would be a matter of many months before needs could be met. New tire production in 1943, according to OPA, was 7,226,000 tires. The country's inventory of new tires on Jan. 1 was 4,500,000. It would take 100,000,000 to equip every car in the country.

If the government is lucky, if the war goes well, if the rubber industry gets the breaks, perhaps the truck tire problem and the military tire problem can be handled. There will be little time to waste—and no tires—on ordinary car owners. They must time their last blowout to celebrate the surrender of Japan.

So They Say—

Maybe the greatest failure of American industry for a generation has been its practice of placing its relations with its workers on a purely dollars-and-cents basis and excluding the human touch as evidenced by a genuine interest in the workers' personal welfare.—Frederick C. Crawford, past president, National Association of Manufacturers.

War itself is an atrocity. We report German atrocities but not our own. To say all Germans are devils and all Englishmen and Russians are angels, is sheer nonsense.—George Bernard Shaw.

News Behind the News

Food Subsidies Fight Seen As Preliminary To Another Battle.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—No lives were lost in the senate contest over banning Mr. Roosevelt's food subsidies.

The administration senators, who were supposed to exude anger in defense of the President, took their continuous set-backs with a yawn. The voting likewise showed a surprisingly strong and daring anti-White House lineup.

The reason was that some inner fixing has been done which, in effect, postpones the issue. Farm bloc Senator Bankhead agreed to include in his bill an extension of the time limit on subsidies until June 30, saying they could not reasonably be stopped before. The administration expects, therefore, to continue to pay the middleman a bonus for holding down prices for four months more. It is getting its money out of the RFC revolving grab-bag, so it does not require congressional appropriations.

New Fight on Way

On that very date, the President's whole price regulation power also will expire. He will have to seek its renewal from congress, after his forthcoming action on Philip Murray's steel wage increase appeal, which will spread the whole wage-price question again wide open.

Therefore, this current subsidy fight is a sham battle, or at least a field maneuver in preparation for the real struggle. If, as expected, Mr. Roosevelt vetoes the current ban and the house sustains his veto, the farm bloc will reenact the struggle on the OPA legislation, and the whole fight will be staged over again within 60 to 90 days.

Politics?

Only politics could justify a presidential veto of the tax bill. Two of Mr. Roosevelt's own top associates quietly made it clear that the contract renegotiation provisions—the bill's central idea he had originally criticized so severely—were satisfactory and workable, before the President had chance to take action on the measure.

Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, in a side remark to a senate committee, said the government agencies got 99 per cent of what they wanted from congress. War Under-Secretary Patterson publicly congratulated congress on doing a constructive job.

The New Dealing crowd nevertheless seemed to want the President to go ahead and kill the bill. One Democratic representative (Johnson of Texas) renewed the old song that it would make a lot of war millionaires—despite the testimony of Patterson and Land.

Soldier Vote

Politics has guided the final considerations on the soldier vote bill. Some of the administration senators are acting as if they thought a greater advantage might be gained by dragging out the fight over methods as long as possible, rather than accepting a compromise solution. They know Mr. Roosevelt has obtained more favorable publicity on this than on any other pending subject, and therefore do not want to hurry the final enactment.

Also Mr. Roosevelt's indorsement of the civilian draft bill (Austin-Wadsworth), which seemed mystifying to me at first in view of the satisfactory manpower situation, now can also be clearly recognized as a political move. The indorsement of such a stringent action (which congress will not take) will thus safely add to Mr. Roosevelt's popularity among the soldiers and sailors who already have been drafted for military duty.

In short, if there is any Washington news you do not understand these days, the law of averages will justify your interpretation of it as politics. No other motive for doing anything exists here in a campaign year.

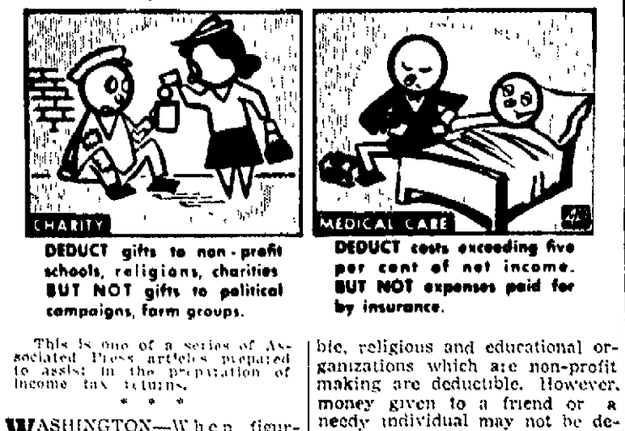
Your Income Tax Return

Deductions Do's and Don'ts



DEDUCT expenses when traveling for business reasons. BUT NOT expenses in going to and from regular work.

DEDUCT COSTS of building business good will. BUT NOT expenses which are paid by your employer.

DEDUCT state income tax, in some cases state gas tax. BUT NOT federal income, gas, social security taxes.

DEDUCT cost of car upkeep if needed in your work. BUT NOT purchase price of car used for business.

DEDUCT gifts to non-profit schools, religions, charities BUT NOT gifts to political campaigns, farm groups.

DEDUCT costs exceeding five per cent of net income. BUT NOT expenses paid for by insurance.

This is one of a series of Associated Press articles prepared to assist in the preparation of income tax returns.

WASHINGTON—When figuring allowable deductions as a method of reducing your tax on 1943 income, the first thing to consider is deductible expenses. These are expenses necessary to carrying on your work, business or profession.

Travel expenses are deductible when required by business, but the cost of commuting to and from your regular place of work is a personal expense and not deductible. Union dues, money paid for essential small tools and for trade and professional magazines may be deducted.

The expenses of a salesman in entertaining customers with the idea of securing business, including taxis, dinners, theater tickets and telephone and telegraph messages, are deductible. But such expenses incurred by an officer or an employe of a company whose employment does not specifically require him to make such expenditures are not deductible.

Several kinds of tax payments are deductible; several others are not. State income and most property taxes may be deducted. The federal income tax and federal gasoline tax are not deductible. Most state gasoline or sales taxes consult an internal revenue agent or a state or county official on the local law.

Contributions made to charitable, religious and educational organizations which are non-profit making are deductible. However, money given to a friend or a needy individual may not be deducted. Contributions to the government are deductible if made for public purposes but contributions to a political party are not deductible.

Interest paid on debts is in general deductible. Typical allowable deductions are interest paid on a personal loan, a home mortgage and installment purchases of merchandise.

The cost of operating and maintaining an auto essential to work or busines may be deducted as a business expense. Deductible expenditures on autos used for pleasure include license fees, municipal auto taxes, interest on time payments in buying a car and interest on money borrowed with the car as security.

Action Urged Now To Define the Terms of Surrender for Germany.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN applying the principle of unconditional surrender to our principal enemies—the Germans and the Japanese — the critical question is whether we can and should lay down now the terms of peace or whether we must wait and see what happens after they have been defeated, disarmed, and their rulers overthrown.

Either way the surrender would be unconditional in that the Allies alone would decide the terms of peace. What the formula excludes is an armistice arrived at by negotiating with the enemy about the terms he will accept. It does not, and could not, exclude negotiations among the Allies about the terms they will offer and will impose.

The real issue, then, is: Shall we agree upon and announce our terms now before the war has been won? Or shall we postpone our decision until we have occupied the enemy countries?

There are very great reasons for making the decisions now and there are also great, though not insuperable, difficulties. Confining ourselves for the time being to Germany, we may say that the case for deciding now is first of all that a clear understanding of the kind of peace we mean, eventually to make with the Germans would clarify the problem of the armistice and of the occupation.

Early Decisions Urged

The sooner the new frontiers of Germany are fixed, the better. The sooner we know how we mean to demilitarize Germany, the more effective will be our measures when we enter Germany. The sooner we know how long we mean to occupy Germany, the more definitely we shall know what to do and what not to do while we are occupying Germany.

The sooner we know how the Germans are to be allowed to earn their living, the more clearly we shall see what to do about preparations and about the control of their production, their imports and their exports.

It is evident too that if we could fix definite terms now, they would, however severe, give the Germans who will survive and eventually replace the Nazis and Pan-Germans an objective to work toward. There can be no doubt that the terror of the unknown is more terrifying than the severest definite terms which the Allies could and would impose.

There is no doubt that what binds together the Germans who are doomed men with the Germans who will survive and have a chance to start life over again is precisely this terror of the unknown. In the absence of definite terms no German knows whether he is doomed or will survive.

Why, then, since there are such obvious advantages to be had from it, have the Allies not yet reached a definite understanding? It is not because they have not been thinking about it but because, so it seems to me, the German question is insoluble until a number of other questions have first been solved.

What are these questions? They have to do with the position and the policy and the relationships of the non-German world. Until there is a settlement around Germany, there is no way of reaching conclusions about what can and should be done in and with Germany. For whatever is done with Germany must be agreed to, supported and in very large degree administered, by the immediate neighbors of Germany. They are Norway and Denmark, the Netherlands and Belgium, France, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Austria.

Relations with Neighbors

The British, the Russians and the Americans would, no doubt, be the ultimate guarantors of the German settlement. But if we look beyond the military occupation, which cannot be prolonged for many years and should be as short as possible, we must realize that the terms of peace and how they work out in practice will depend upon the daily, detailed relations between Germany and her immediate neighbors.

For this reason the settlement

Raymond Clapper, William White Both Made Distinguis Contributions To Advancemer

By DAMON RUNYON

TWO great Kansas newspapermen re handed in "30," as old timers in our ness used to phrase the end of life's They were Raymond Clapper, the colu killed in an air accident in the war zo the South Pacific, and William Allen W who died in his own Emporia, the town became synonymous with his name.

I did not know Clapper, but I had the profound respect and admiration for his He was one of the soundest of the co writers. He went away from the Sunfl state to win his fame. White remained to become a world figure. American jou ism has suffered a great loss in the pa of these two.

I met White many times, once in Cob on the Rhine during the American occup after World war I. I think he was repre ing the Red Cross. He had his young Bill, with him. Bill is now a famous jou ist in his own right and his father's succe but I generally encountered the elder W around political conventions, which he s ed to enjoy. He knew politics like you the back of your hand.

HE was perhaps the most successful "c try editor" in the United States, g him the status he liked to claim, thou daily newspaper in a thriving city like poria seems to me to take the "country of the editor.

Even if you wanted to disregard W international experience and standing, I a lot of editors with better publishing p than the average metropolitan daily and are as much at home on the Strand as they on Main street, who like to call themse "country editors."

I have often marvelled that when the n of William Allen White was mentioned it nearly always as a newspaperman, neve a literary figure. It seems scarcely kn especially among newspapermen of late that he was the author of fiction that in opinion places him in the first rank of A ican writers.

His best journalistic efforts were med compared to his short stories and novels. most all newspapermen, except perhaps veriest freshmen, can tell you that W wrote a great editorial entitled "What's Matter With Kansas." But few seem to member that long afterward he wrote fine and popular novels. "A Certain Rich M and "In The Heart of a Fool."

WHITE could have thrown The Emp Gazette away and made a reputation a fortune as a fiction writer years ago, b suppose he was like a lot of other newspa men I have known—too much of a nat born newspaperman to find excitement enjoyment in anything else. Kansas had other literary genius of the same type in Howe, whose novel "The Story Of A Cou Town" is an American classic, but Howe ferred the newspaper business to literature.

I would not say White was a spectac newspaper writer, reportorially or editori outside of occasional vignettes of brilla I judge him reportorially on his political vention stories. Admitting I did not have opportunity of following him closley ed ially, I think I have read all the fiction ever wrote, and I believe his ultimate will rest on that.

His realiest literary work was a serie boy stories, now collected under the t "The Court Of Boyville" and "In Our To They belong with the boy stories of Step Crane and Booth Tarkington. Good boy s ies are the rarest gems in fiction. White wrote quite a bit of heavy stuff which I h not read: "Woodrow Wilson" and "Ca Coolidge" and 'Politics And The Citizen's B ness." Then there were "Masks In A Page and "The Editor And His People."

The last is a volume of his selected ed rials. I fear few editorials bear re-reading a a lapse of time, but pick up any of his fic now and you will see what I mean when I you that William Allen White belongs in hall of fame not as a great editor but a great author.

Russia's Attitude Toward Finns Made Known at Teheran

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Russia's reported indication that she has no harsh designs on Finnish territory in the making of peace terms—though Moscow expects unconditional surrender and use of Finland as a military base—fits the Soviet attitude at the time of the conference of the Big Three at Teheran.

I was told by a high source soon after the conference that this was the position However, the Muscovite temper towards Helsinki patently hasn't improved Terms now aren't likely to be as easy as they would have been then, and protraction of the war will add to their severity.

Probably one of the greatest barriers to mild conditions from Moscow is an individual—Field Marshal Baron Gustaf Mannerheim, who is grand old man to the Finns but out here noire to the Communists This 75-year-old bemonocled aristocrat is not only commander-in-chief but the most powerful influence in his country.

Foe of Communism

The once dashing baron has been the bitter foe of Communism from its birth. It was he who fresh from the glitter of the Czarist court, led the Finns in successful revolt against the Bolsheviks in 1918 Then, in white uniform and astride a white charger, he rode through Helsinki to assume dictatorship until a president was elected Since then he has been the man behind the gun

The marshal led the Finns against Russia in 1939-40, and has headed the show since Finland ranged herself alongside Germany in the present conflict He got the credit for his alliance with the world's number one enemy, and now Moscow is going to have difficulty in seeing past the shiny Hitlerian medals on Mannerheim's chest

A blunt man, and quick on the trigger, is Lt. Gen. Joseph Clark (Uncle Joe) W. Stilwell, commander-in-chief of United States forces in China, Burma and India, and he has given speedy reply to the statement by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, C-in-C of the United States Pacific fleet, that the latter's aim is to get the forces under his command moving across the Pacific and setting up bases in China Says the general:

"To accomplish such a mission, naval action must be supported heavily by an aggressive land and air offensive projected from the interior This we intend to do in spite of the existing blockade At present, however, China is totally dependent on air transport, and the need is immediate for a continued increase of supplies Vital China-based air operations cannot wait for penetration of the blockade by land or sea"

General Wants Weapons

Some observers interpret the general's statement as indicating fear that he may suffer for equipment because of the naval effort. Be that as may, Uncle Joe knows what he wants and goes after it. I met him in China just over a year ago when he was performing miracles of transportation with a handful of planes Since then he has received more, of course, but he can't get too many

Just think of one of the Big Four nations being mainly dependent on a few transport planes to enable her to defend herself, to say nothing of make offensives! China's position is serious. She needs supplies, and needs 'em fast. But for General Stilwell's transports and Major General Claire L. Cennault's grand 14th airforce, she likely would have been knocked out of the war before this Where would the allies stand then in their war with Japan"

However, indications are that both Stilwell and Nimitz can get supplies, so that everybody will be happy.

22,000 Tons of Jap Ships Sunk by U. S. Airmen

He also told members of the Ohio Valley Board of trade at their annual meeting here last night that it is President Roosevelt's duty to make known his intentions regarding a fourth term."

"And as we are fighting to maintain self-government," he continued, "it is President Roosevelt's duty to give the people a fuller insight into the war's development"

Bricker declared the greatest discouragement for the future existed in the fear of the people "that the burdens of government may not be lessened when the war is won and that bureaucracy will not be curbed

Ancient Monastery at Cassino Is Italian National Monument

By The Associated Press

Famed Monte Cassino monastery, the target of American bombs today because German soldiers used it for a fort, has been a national monument and the property of the Italian government but its monks have lived in it and run it just as if it were their own property

Included in the present buildings, which form a vast rectangular pile, is a lay school for boys and two seminaries

The monks have run the schools and as custodians of the ancient cradle of the Order of St. Benedict one of their chief duties has been the care of the abbey's priceless archives, which the Germans have said are now removed.

These archives include many documents relating to the 1,400-year history of the abbey as well as 1,400 ancient manuscripts on church and historical subjects

Monte Cassino became a national monument in 1866 under a decree of the government which made all monasteries property of the state. But there was no attempt to evict the monks They remained as custodians and carried on their work as before.

The abbey of Monte Cassino was founded by St Benedict about 529 The town of Cassinum now Cassino, lying at the foot of the mountain had been destroyed by the Goths some 35 years previously On the summit was a temple of Apollo and people of the town still were pagans.

Benedict's first act was to break the image of Apollo and destroy the altar and on the site of the pagan temple he built a church dedicated to St John the Baptist. After St Benedict's death the monastery flourished until 580 when it was pillaged and burned by the Lombards

Monte Cassino Abbey was restored in 718 Toward the end of the ninth century it was partly destroyed and some of its monks killed by the Saracens who had overrun that part of Italy Its restoration was complete by 949

The name of the abbey reached its height under Abbot Desiderius who became Pope Victor III in 1086

The buildings of the monastery were re-constructed on a magnificent scale, with artists being brought from other parts of Italy to supervise the work peaks around the abbey without damaging the old monastery.

The abbey church was under construction from 1637 to 1727. Elaborately and profusely decorated, it contained some of the finest examples of Florentine mosaic work in Italy.

But the slopes of monastery hill have been honey-combed with German machine-gun nests and sniper positions, and allied officers asserted the enemy has been using the monastery itself for machine-gun posts and artillery observation, and also as a cover for Germans defending the hill.

German use of the monastery undoubtedly has brought death to allied soldiers, and allied officers said lives of more soldiers would be saved by removal of the monastery as a dominating point of the battlefield.

Many Relics Removed

Many of the relics stored in the buildings are believed to have been removed to Rome, and perhaps other safekeeping places

The present building dates from the 15th century. All but the walls of the monastery were destroyed by an earthquake in 1349

The bombing followed a warning, carried by bursting timeshells that scattered leaflets over the area yesterday, advising the monks and any Italian refugees there to leave.

"The time has come when we must train our guns on the Monastery. We give you warning so that you may save yourselves. We warn you urgently: Leave the monastery," the leaflets said.

The earth shook as giant bombs fell on the peak, some of them on the abbey itself.

From a hill just across the valley, one could see great balls of fire leap up from the hillside as the bombs tumbled from the big planes.

It was impossible to tell whether the monks and refugees in the aged building had heeded the warning given them.

The first formation of planes appeared over the valley about 9:25 a. m (4:25 a m, eastern war time).

Third of Cassino Taken

Doughboy troops battling in Cassino below were said unofficially to have occupied one-third of that bastion town in bitter house-to-house fighting.

On the invasion bridgehead to the west, allied troops threw back a small German attack in the Carroceto (Aprilia) area, and repulsed a Nazi patrol in the Cisterna area northeast of Anzio. Artillerymen broke up a German attempt to bridge a stream 10 miles above Anzio.

Liberators and Flying Fortresses struck powerfully yesterday at enemy rail and highway communications in northern Italy pouring troops and supplies southward for battle. They concentrated on a triangular area between Arezzo south of Florence to Verona, southern terminus for rail lines from Germany through the Brenner Pass.

Indicative of the bloody fighting in the Cassino sector, 240 German dead were found in the Mt. Castellano area north of Cassino. The Germans yesterday asked for a three-hour truce in order to bury their dead.

Patrol activity and artillery exchanges still marked the sixth Fifth army front, foreshadowing no decisive activity on the Fifth army front.

Guns Open Up After Planes Bomb Hill

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 — Max Hill, NBC reporter on the Cassino front, radioed today that allied artillery units began shelling the Benedictine monastery on Mt. Cassino after more than 100 American planes had bombed the building, converted into an observation fortress by the Germans.

"There is no way of telling whether the priests left before the (air) attack or remained in the abbey cells," Hill said. "There were 2,000 men, women and children refugees from Cassino also in the monastery, but it is not known whether they were still there after the warning." He returned to Italian dropped yesterday by the allies, warning those in the monastery to leave.

"Clouds of smoke rose 2,000 feet from the first wave (of bombers), obscuring the monastery. And hardly had it cleared when the second wave laid a double pattern of bombs from the top to the base of the mountain. Again the Benedictine abbey rocked. The third wave hit the top and southeast slope while the fourth came in on the east and west slopes. Then the fifth wave [illegible]

OHIO POPULATION DROPS 76,071 IN THREE YEARS

Census Bureau Bases Estimate on Ration Book 4

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb 15 — Ohio's civilian population has dropped an estimated 76,071 in three years, the census bureau reports

The bureau estimated the state's non-military population at 6,828,352 as of last Nov 1, against 6,904,423 recorded by the 1940 decennial census

A comparison with an estimate made May 1, 1942, based on registrations for war ration book No 4 showed a decrease of 102,144 the bureau said

Greatest losses among counties was Noble, with a 28.9 per cent drop under the 1940 figures, followed closely by Adams, Hocking, Morgan, Perry, Pike, Putnam, Van Wert and Vinton counties, all down 20 per cent or more.

Greene county led in population gain the percentage of its civilian inhabitants having risen 24.1.

American Liberators Hit Northern France

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 15— American Liberators today attacked German fortifications in northern France for the fourth time in five days, after earlier smashes against targets in the same area by American Marauders and RAF medium fighter bombers

The assault followed a night in which no allied operations were reported and Britain enjoyed its first raid-free night since Feb. 10.

Thieves Loot Delaware State Liquor Store

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 15 — Thieves pried open the barred rear door of the state liquor store here Sunday night and stole 22 cases of pints of whisky, Police Chief Leonard Heffman said yesterday.

Heffman said the whisky had a retail value of $220, and that the thieves had moved several cases of fifths of whisky out of the way so they might get to the pints.

Surgeon General Sees No Quick Close of War

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 15—The nation's medical men have "no right to plan on a finish of this war in three years," says Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, surgeon general of the United States Navy

"The medical department of the Navy is not planning on it," McIntire told the annual Congress of Medical Education and Licensure yesterday "I would like to have you base all your plans on nothing less than three years"

The admiral reported that the number of men inducted for limited service would be reduced and that this group would be filled with disabled veterans returned from the war zones

Harding Plays Two Games This Week

BY CHARLES ELLIOTT

For North Central Ohio conference schools, Marion Harding and Shelby in particular, this week is an active and important one along the basketball front with "show down" semi-final games on tap.

A quartet of league clashes, three Friday and one Saturday night, and a non-loop get-together tonight comprise this week's menue for the N. C. O. Dewey Bohyer's Harding Presidents will have their collective hands full of strenuous basketeering as they have to cope with Galion in a regularly scheduled tilt Friday and follow up with a tangle with the Shelby Whippets Saturday. This will also mark the second contest in 24 hours for the Whippets, who are slated to face Mt. Vernon's Yellow Jackets Friday night.

Harding and Shelby originally were scheduled to tussle last Friday night but the Whippets were unable to make the long trip here because of the snow banking high on the roads, making travel dangerous and almost impossible.

In the other N.C.O. game Friday, Ashland's currently first-place Hilltoppers will jaunt to Bucyrus to play Chuck Tschanen's Redmen in a contest that may prove an explosive bundle of upset dynamite. Ashland pinned the Redmen down, 58 to 45, in their first round clash, and all signs point to an ever more convincing Hilltopper win this time. Bucyrus hasn't done much to improve herself while Ashland has given whole some nourishment to its fat reputation with slashing victories, including a 55 to 40 revenge pasting of the Mansfield Tygets. But Bucyrus will be playing on its home court and Bucyrus fans declare they can catch the strong scent of the upset bug poised to administer a fatal sting to Ashland's title hopes Friday night.

The Hilltoppers rule the N.C.O. roost by a half-game margin over Marion. Ashland has won seven and lost one while Harding, having played one less contest, has marked up six wins and a lone defeat. And, what's more, Ashland will remain in first place if they win Friday. However, if Harding trounces Shelby Saturday as everyone anticipates, the league chase will revert to its former status with Ashland and Harding deadlocked for top position.

The Presidents will be taxed considerably with games on successive nights, a rate of playing the men of Bohyer have not been accustomed to this year. However, the strength of either Galion and Shelby doesn't measure up to upset proportions. It certainly is better for the President's that they are playing two games this week instead of next. A week from Friday the locals meet Ashland in what probably will be the championship game. If Harding engaged in another league game only a few nights before the test with Ashland, the locals' playing proficiency perhaps would be diminished enough for an easy Hilltopper triumph.

For the first week since November, the Irish of Marion St. Mary are without a basketball game. Coach Lowe McCrate's Parochials are idle until next Tuesday night, George Washington's birthday, when they will meet Marysville in a return engagement. The Irish have maintained a two-game-a-week pace up to this point, having taken part in 17 interscholastic games.

Games this week follow:

N. C. O. LEAGUE
Tuesday Night

Bucyrus at Crestline (non-league)

$1,010,000 Offer Fails To Purchase Dodger Control

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 — A bid of $1,010,000 has proved insufficient to buy a controlling interest in the Brooklyn Dodger National league baseball club.

Max C. Meyer, Brooklyn jeweler, made that disclosure last night in announcing he and his associates had decided to drop their efforts to purchase the club because "we were confronted with the proposition of assuming additional financial burdens which we felt we could not take on."

Persons acquainted with the club's financial setup indicated he might have referred to $150,000 or $200,000 in unpaid salaries due several directors of the club.

The Meyer group had hoped to purchase 75 per cent of the club's outstanding stock. Meyer explained they were ready to pay $260,000 for 25 per cent of the stock held by the Edward McKeever heirs and $730,000 for the 50 per cent held by the heirs of the late Charles Ebbets.

"That meant," he said, "We were putting $1,010,000 into the purchase, which is quite a lot of money."

Branch Rickey, president of the club, learned the Dodgers might not have the services of four players during the forthcoming season.

Outfielder Dixie Walker and Catcher Bobby Bragan, both of whom live in Birmingham, Ala., notified the Dodger front office they had been reclassified 1-A. Pitcher Bill Sayles has enlisted in the Army Air Corps after passing a pre-induction physical examination at Portland, Ore. Star second baseman Billy Herman has applied for a job in a war plant near his New Albany, Ind., home.

County Cage Tourney Opens Thursday

One of the feature amateur athletic attractions of the year in Marion county, the annual county scholastic basketball tournament, will get under way Thursday night on the Claridon and Agosta high school courts.

Battling in the inaugural frays at Agosta will be Claridon and Green Camp at 8 o'clock and LaRue and Prospect at 9 o'clock. On the Claridon hardwoods Morral will take on Waldo at 8 o'clock and Pleasant will tangle with Martel at 9 o'clock.

These four tilts will be followed by another quartet of games Saturday afternoon, in which teams drawing byes for the opening night's games will meet the winners of Thursday's conflicts.

Drawings for the annual tournament were held at the office of D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, Saturday morning. All 12 county league schools were represented. Clayton M. Barden, superintendent of LaRue schools, was in charge of drawings and was assisted by the county athletic committeemen—H. C. Secrest of Prospect, Paul E. Furniss of Agosta, A. B. Augenstein of Claridon, and W. E. Harrington of Kirkpatrick. Mr. Barden is county athletic chairman.

The tourney will carry on into next week with semi-final games scheduled for Friday night, Feb. 25 and the championship and consolation finals Saturday night, Feb. 26.

Modified Plan

This year's event will be conducted on a modified form of the double elimination plan. A team will have to be beaten twice before it is counted out of tourney competition. However, if a squad drops one game it can not qualify for either first or second place in the tourney. Consolation games have been scheduled to be played along with the regular tourney games, which will culminate in the title game Feb. 26. Last year's tournament was run on a single elimination basis.

Seeded teams for the 1944 tourney are Claridon, which won the league championship last Friday night with a victory over Pleasant, Morral, runner-up, and LaRue and Pleasant, third and fourth place clubs respectively. Claridon and LaRue were seeded in the top bracket and Morral and Pleasant in the lower. This means that Morral and Claridon, who waged a season-long battle for first with Claridon finally winning out by a full game, will not meet in any elimination or semi-final contests.

LaRue is the defending champion, having taken the 1943 crown with a final round decision over Agosta. The 1943 LaRue team also won the loop title. The tourney championship usually follows as an additional honor for the regular season first place finisher. However, there have been infrequent cases in past county tourneys where a dark horse that wound up out of the league running sneaked in to triumph.

Bye-drawers for first round games are Kirkpatrick, Agosta, Meeker and Caledonia.

Each school will furnish a timer and scorer for each tournament game. The decision as to who will be recognized as official scorekeeper and timer will rest with the game officials.

Referees for Thursday night's openers will be C. R. Rubins of Kenton at Agosta and LeRoy Boyd of Lancaster at Claridon. These two men will work all tourney games with Boyd moving over to officiate the games at Morral this Saturday afternoon and Rubins handling the Saturday tilts at Claridon.

Trophies for Winners

As usual, the winner and runner-up in this year's tournament will be awarded trophies. Third and fourth place winners probably will receive the basketballs used in the consolation and championship finals. The "rotating" trophy, annually given to the league champion, was of course copped by Claridon.

In this Saturday afternoon's tourney games, the following schedule has been arranged:

At Morral—Kirkpatrick vs the winner of the Claridon-Green Camp game; Agosta vs the winner of the Prospect-LaRue game.

At Claridon—Meeker vs the winner of the Morral-Waldo game; Caledonia vs the winner of the Pleasant-Martel game.

This Saturday night the following consolation games will be played:

Loser of the Green Camp-Claridon game vs the loser of the Waldo-Morral game; loser of the LaRue-Prospect game vs the loser of the Pleasant-Martel game; loser of the Kirkpatrick vs Green Camp or Claridon game vs the loser of the Meeker vs Morral or Waldo game; loser of Agosta vs Prospect or LaRue game vs loser of Caledonia vs Pleasant or Martel game.

Sites for these consolation games and the tourney semi-finals and finals have not been decided by the county athletic board. Decision probably will be suspended until next week because of the possibility that immediate decision might mean a team playing on its home floor.

One Bicycle Released by County Ration Board

A certificate for the release of a bicycle, the first thaw in the practically frozen vehicles as far as the local rationing board was concerned, was issued last week to Miss Eva D. Reith of near Prospect, who uses it in helping with farm work. No automobiles were released by the board.

Certificates for the release of 95 grade one tires and 60 tubes were issued to 61 applicants; 45 grade three tires and 20 tubes went to 26 persons; four implement tires and four tubes granted to one farmer; 10 new truck tires and 10 tubes were issued to 10 drivers. Fifteen pairs of rubber boots were issued last week.

Grubmeir and Nichols On Thursday Mat Program

Thursday's wrestle show at the armory will feature in the 2-hour main event rematched Grubmeir and Jackie Nichols. They recently met in the one hour semi-final.

The balance of the card will bring in some boys who haven't been around for several weeks and one boy who hasn't been in Marion for a couple of years, but the fans will remember him well for he is Antone Leone, the wild Italian from Boston.

The one hour semi-final will be between Tex Riley, who has wrestled main events in Marion, and Earl Malone of Salt Lake City. The one fall opened will bring in Antone Leone of Boston and Leo Jensen. The first match at 8:30.

JACK AND BERGER TANGLE IN CLEVELAND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15—Lightweight Champion Beau Jack, the boxing industry's latest perpetual motion machine, trains his rapid fire artillery on veteran Maxie Berger in an over-the-weight 10-rounder in Cleveland's public hall tonight.

A sellout crowd of around 11,000 is expected to see the former Georgia bootblack turn in a shining job on the Montreal welterweight, winner of 16 straight.

"It kind of looks like I'm the forgotten man here," says Maxie. "To read all the headlines a person might think Jack was going into that ring alone.

"The fellow deserves his share of the headlines, of course. He's a champion all right, but with a little break in the luck and some sharp counter punching I could catch up with my share of the headlines the day after the fight. And I think I've seen enough of him to know how to counter him properly."

The winner will clash with Sammy Angott, the National Boxing association's champion, later in March.

Patrolman Carl McClain reported. Delano was shot here last night as he left a labor meeting where he had addressed furnace workers. He died enroute to a hospital.

Newark and Martins Ferry Look Like the Teams To Beat

BY HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 15—It's beginning to sound like a tune from a broken record but it somehow doesn't stop Newark's Wildcats and Martins Ferry soon it will be hard to overlook those two outfits in selecting the top favorites for the 1944 Ohio State high school basketball championship.

There are a few schools, largely in class B, which have won more games without a defeat than Newark or Martins Ferry and several other class A teams can offer plenty of evidence that they too will have a lot to say about the title but the Wildcats and the Ferrians are smothering all opposition with monotonous regularity.

They both picked up two victories last week to run their unbroken strings to 16 each for this season. Thirty games now have been played over two seasons since Newark last tasted defeat, Martins Ferry's only setback in its last 40 games was at the hands of Newark in last year's state tournament.

Last week Newark thumped Dover, 43 to 20, and Zanesville, 44 to 26. Martins Ferry walloped Steubenville, 58 to 41, and Linsley Military Institute of Wheeling, W. Va., 64 to 23. In the Steubenville game the Ferrians came up with the brilliant feat of hitting 24 of 59 shots from the field.

Only once this season has Martins Ferry failed to tally more than 55 points.

Time Up for Tourney

All of the undefeated leaders apparently are ready, however, to start turning on the heat for tournament competition. They breezed through last week's encounters and rarely were they even pressed.

Just to mention a few, Enon ran its string to 15 by walloping Plattsburg, 54 to 30. Canton Timken, expecting a hard game from Canton McKinley, skipped through to a 38 to 25 triumph, its 15th in a row. Findlay chalked up No. 14 by romping over Dayton Roosevelt, 57 to 14. That was just another in the long string of fine defensive performances turned in by Findlay. In 14 games the team has yielded an average of only 23 points a game.

Toledo Devilbiss had little trouble getting its 12th straight triumph, beating Lima Central, 55 to 40.

Van Wert took a 62 to 36 beating from Bluffton but achieved something by holding the Pirates to seven points less then their average up to that time. Until Friday night Bluffton had averaged 69 points a game in winning 11 straight contests.

One of the oustanding individual performances of the week was turned in by Johnny Tillitski, sharp-shooting forward for Canton St. John's. Tillitski connected for 36 points on 17 field goals and two free throws, as St. John's rolled up a 90 to 17 count on Dover St. Joseph. It was the 15th victory in 16 games for St. John's.

Tops Columbus Teams

Rosary continued to sport the top record in Columbus—14 victories as against only one loss — but the game that attracted the attention in the Ohio capital was the tilt between Bexley and Grandview. The boys apparently thought rationing had been extended to basketball points because the final score was Bexley 15, Grandview 8. Bexley got the only points registered in the entire first half—four of them.

Aside from Newark, Martins Ferry, Bluffton and the like, the other undefeated teams in the state will include Covington (16), Ashville (17), Tipp City (13), Cincinnati St. Xavier (13), Cincinnati Wayne (12) and Sabina (9).

And then there is Chillicothe which last week took a 39 to 19 beating from Lancaster—the 14th straight loss without a single victory.

Huber Keeps Lead in County Loop by Defeating Cooler

Huber Manufacturing bested Universal Cooler cagers, 26 to 20, last night to maintain their undefeated top place in the second half of the County basketball league being played at the Y. M. C. A. At the half Cooler was in the lead, but Huber won the game in the third quarter when they scored 10 points to Cooler's two.

Fairfield girls defeated Huber girls, 32 to 22. High scorers were Carpenter, Fairfield center, with 13 points and Mochel, Huber, forward, with 12 points.

A game between Waldo and Local No. 1947 was canceled because the Waldo team was unable to reach Marion through the snow.

DEFERMENT REQUEST DECLINED BY BROWN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 15—Football Coach Paul Brown of Ohio State university, recently reclassified 1-A says he has asked his Massillon draft board to disregard the school's deferment request and "to treat my case just like anyone else's."

"I asked no one to request a deferment for me," asserted Brown, who is 36 and the father of three children.

President Howard L. Bevis said the University would accede to Brown's wishes and withdraw the request made last week at the time of the coach's reclassification from 3-A to 1-A.

Bevis explained the deferment was sought because of Brown's contribution to the physical training program of the many Army and Navy troops stationed on the campus and "not because he is a football coach."

"I think I'll pass the physical all right," Brown laughed.

President Bevis said "this thing has blown up suddenly and no thought has been given to replacing him. We'll have to look around if Paul is taken for military service."

Brown came to Ohio State in 1941 from Massillon High school where he had coached a series of phenomenally successful teams. His 1942 Buckeye grid team won the Big Ten and national championships.

Johnny Revolta Wins Texas Open Tourney

By The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 15—Golfdom's touring professionals prepared today to move into the deep south with the McSpaden-Nelson monopoly on winter tournament titles broken by methodical Johnny Revolta, who captured the Texas open for his first major triumph in two years.

The Evanston, Ill., veteran shot a three-under-par 68 yesterday to take down $1,000 in war bonds while Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia and Byron Nelson of Toledo, who between them had won all tournaments of the current swing prior to this one, finished in a tie for second. Revolta's total for 72 holes was 273. Nelson and McSpaden each ended up with 274.

CHAPLIN FINGERPRINTED, GETS PICTURE TAKEN. Charlie Chaplin, the world-famous comic of silent screen days, is pictured being fingerprinted in Los Angeles court after surrendering on federal "white slave and conspiracy indictments involving 24-year-old Joan Berry, who accused him of being the father of her infant daughter Chaplin, 54, at first asked not to be photographed while being fingerprinted but later relented, permitting photographers to snap him. Chaplin was freed without bail pending formal arrangement next week. His attorney, Jerry Giesler, is at left.

AUTO TRAILER HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Stove Explosion Starts Blaze in Downtown Area.

Fire this morning destroyed an auto trailer parked on a lot east of 172 East Center street. The trailer had been the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ralston and Mr. Ralston's mother.

Mr. Ralston, operator of Ralston's restaurant at the East Center street address, went to the trailer shortly after 11 a. m. to fill a kerosene heating stove. After he left the stove exploded. Mrs. Ralston noticed flames and summoned firemen from Central station, who answered the call in No. 1 truck and quad unit. When they arrived, flames were beyond control.

The trailer, parked behind a sign board on the lot, contained all the Ralstons' personal possessions, clothing and a store of canned fruit, practically all of which was destroyed. No one was in the trailer at the time of the fire.

Total loss was estimated by firemen at $900. There was no insurance covering the trailer or its contents. Flames burned through the roof and tear part of the trailer before efforts could be made to salvage items from inside it.

Keeps Lincoln Alive in Death

HE LIVES WITH LINCOLN. For 22 years Herbert W. Fay has been custodian of the Civil War president's shrine. He's shown the tomb to more than three million. The death mask in his hand is from his Lincoln collection of a million items.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Abraham Lincoln still lives in the mind of the man who is closest to the Great Emancipator in death.

That man is 85-year-old Herbert Wells Fay, a grey-haired Illinois country newspaper editor who for the last 22 years has been the custodian of Abraham Lincoln's tomb.

While the nation prepares to commemorate the Civil War president's 135th birthday anniversary, Fay devotes himself to his hobby—a collection of more than a million photographs, clippings, books and letters dealing with Lincoln's life—and in retrospect lives in the days when Honest Abe rode the circuit to backwoods courthouses or stumped the state in brawling political campaigns.

Lincoln is no mythical figure to the frail custodian who has guided some 3,000,000 through the shrine in the last two decades. Poring over Lincoln's letters and newspapers, Fay finds a man as real to him as a neighbor.

"Certainly Lincoln is alive today—at least his spirit is alive," he staunchly tells visitors. "He's a living force in the United States. All over the world we see people fighting for the things he stands for."

Fay treasures 52 original letters written by Lincoln to friends and office seekers. Although he lives with enjoyment in the past, Fay has plenty of contact with the present. He has guided every president since Harding through the impressive marble and granite tomb.

President Roosevelt visited the Lincoln shrine twice, in 1922 and 1938, and Mrs. Roosevelt has signed the visitor's record three times. President and schoolboy get the same little speech:

"Here is the tomb proper. Body of Lincoln lies 10 feet from inside of north wall, 10 feet below floor, with head to west, made necessary by attempt to steal the body in 1876."

The attempt to steal Lincoln's body was a sensational plot by a band of men who broke into the tomb and dragged the metal coffin from the stone sarcophagus before they were frightened away.

1940 G.O.P. Nominee Formally Enters Race; Oregonian To Be Manager.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 15—Wendell Willkie last night formally announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination and selected Ralph H. Cake, Oregon's G. O. P. national committeeman, as his pre-convention campaign manager.

The 1940 party nominee said at a press conference the Republicans can win the 1944 presidential election only by offering proof to the electorate through its candidate and its platform that:

1. The United States can more effectively fight the war with a Republican instead of a Democrat as its chief executive.

2. The Republican party has a more comprehensive understanding than the Democrats of America's post-war social and economic adjustments and responsibilities.

3. The G. O. P.'s interest in the understanding of the United States' role in world cooperation is stronger and deeper than that of the Democrats.

Willkie added such a three-point program "must not be a mere cloak put on for political and campaign purposes but a deep and abiding belief" which must be carried by the party's presidential candidate.

"The Republican party, since it is out of power, is entitled to make legitimate criticism of and take advantage of errors of the party in power," Willkie said at Medford, Ore., enroute to Portland.

"But it cannot win, or be entitled to win, by presenting nothing but a bill of errors and complaints." He reiterated his role was to bring about party unity.

Willkie said he would wage active campaigns in states where he enters primaries. Cake, scheduled to leave last night for New York City to establish national campaign headquarters, said Willkie's campaign in the Wisconsin primary was already under way.

Mrs. Frank Reynolds of Cambridge City, Ind., will head the women's division of the Willkie Campaign, Cake announced. Mrs. Reynolds is an Indiana Republican national committeewoman and former Indiana state treasurer.

Cake is a native Oregonian and lifelong Republican. He is a former president of the United States Savings & Loan league and at present is president of the Equitable Savings & Loan association and a practicing attorney here.

Declaring the appointment of Cake constituted his formal declaration of candidacy, Willkie added, "If there is anyone who didn't already know I was going to run."

Three in Navy Gun Crew Held on Assault Charge

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 — Three members of a Navy gun crew on a merchant ship were under military arrest today on charges of robbery, assault and attempted rape in connection with an attack on Dr. Elmer Hutchinson Gillespie, 34, Boston physician, and his wife, Ruth, 21, in Boston last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Gillespie obtained "John Doe" warrants here and, to identify the suspects, boarded the ship with police as it entered Delaware bay. The Navy announced the arrests but did not identify the prisoners, who will be held until Massachusetts authorities ask Secretary Knox to transfer them to civilian custody.

Police said they stopped Gillespie's automobile, climbed in, attacked the couple and then fled, taking the car.

DIAL 2314

LOCAL WANT AD RATES

	1 Time	2 Times	6 Times
Three lines	75c	72c	$1.26
Each extra line	15c	24c	42c

Minimum charge three lines. Ads not ordered for consecutive insertions will be charged at the one time rate, each time.

In figuring ads allow five 6-letter words to a line.

Charged ads in Marion and Marion rural routes only will be received by telephone.

Ads ordered for three or six days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned.

Errors in want ads will be corrected and an extra insertion given only when notification is made before the second insertion.

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject any ads deemed objectionable.

Closing time for transient classified advertisements is 10:45 a. m. the day of publication.

LIPPMANN

with Germany cannot safely be formulated definitely until the political and economic relations within western Europe, within eastern Europe and the relationship between the two regions, have been agreed upon and consolidated. How can the western frontier of Germany be fixed unless there is a most thorough understanding by the Dutch, the Belgians, the French and the British? How can the eastern frontier of Germany be fixed unless there is a thorough understanding among the Poles the Czechs and the Russians?

In the absence of such understandings Germany cannot be held to any terms. For the settlement among her neighbors will provide the opportunity and the temptation to squirm and twist her way, to intrigue and bribe her way, out of the terms of peace.

In these conditions the Germans who will wish to be decent and peaceable would have no chance against the Nazis and the Pan-Germans who, though out of power, will live on underground.

The German democracy of the future will have a hard time coming to life. It is at best a very fragile thing. German democracy would have no chance unless it is settled and remains settled beyond all question that German imperialism cannot be revived.

This will not necessarily require, I believe, the indefinite occupation of Germany. But it will require a state of things in which Germany can be policed from a distance for as long as may be necessary. But Germany will not and cannot be policed if the policemen on her frontiers are all at sixes and sevens with each other.

There are, therefore, the most compelling reasons why the United Nations should compose their differences, organize the security of their neighborhoods, agree on how they will restore and develop their own economic life and how they will orient their trade. Only then will they be able to know how they can and how they should settle with Germany.

RAIL STOCKS EXTEND GAINS

Canadian Pacific Dividend Helps Bolster Railroad Issues.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 — The Canadian Pacific dividend, first in 12 years, imparted further strength to rail stocks today and assorted market leaders displayed recovery inclinations.

C. P. common opened 70 3-8 on a block of 3,500 shares and later extended this gain. Aircrafts came to life and, with dealings picking up moderately, advances generally ranged from fractions to a point or more near the fourth hour.

Bidding reluctance still was evident for many utilities and industrials.

Prominent on the upside were Santa Fe, Norfolk & Western, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Cuban-American Sugar, Firestone Tire and Texas Co. most steels, motors, rubbers, mail orders, oils and coppers did little either way.

HARDING SENIORS WIN HI-Y GAME

Sophomores Defeat Edison Hi-Y 38 to 37.

Harding High school's Senior Hi-Y cagers defeated a Harding Junior Hi-Y team 33 to 28 last night to retain top place in the Hi-Y league games being played at the Y. M. C. A. and make their winning of the city Hi-Y championship a certainty.

The seniors kept a lead until the half, but at the end of the third quarter the game was tied at 22 points. The seniors rallied in the last quarter to end the game in their favor.

Harding Sophomore Hi-Y players defeated Edison Hi-Y by a close 38 to 37 score for their first win of the season. Edison played with four men. Rules of the league permit four-men teams.

DENIES CHARGES

Two charges of selling meats adulterated by the addition of Sulfites which means it was colored and made to appear better and of greater value than it really was were filed against Andrew A. Jackson, 52, of 297 Silver street, Marion meat dealer, in municipal court this morning. Jackson pleaded not guilty and posted $50 bond on each charge pending a hearing Feb. 23. The charges were filed by W. F. Mitchell, an inspector for the division of foods and dairies of the state department of agriculture, who alleges he purchased hamburger and sausage at Jackson's store on Jan. 25 shows by laboratory tests to have contained the sulfites. One charge was filed on the hamburger, the other on sausage.

RYE MARKET GIVEN POOR BACKING TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 15—Selling by local traders uncovered a poorly supported rye market today and prices receded more than a cent from the day's highs. The reactionary trend in rye also spread to wheat and oats which earlier, like rye, were firm.

Great selling pressure in the wheat pit was absent and the downturn came more from lack of buying interest, but while this was true of the early rye market, fairly general selling came from professional operators later in the session.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

HARRY UNDERWOOD and Dicky, my husband, here in this quaint East Side restaurant, hotbed of subversive activities, where so many of our family group were waiting the arrival of my father, and the final drama of his hoped-for victory over the group of international gangsters he had been training so long!

For the fraction of a second, I stood startled, too astonished to move or speak. Then I caught my cue, or thought I did, and answered him in tones as audible as his own.

Answers

'Thank' you, I shall be very glad to sit down and chat for awhile," I said. "But my friends, I am afraid, must go back to that other table. The people who are dining with us, are strangers here, and we must not leave them alone."

"I bow to your decision," he said.

Then he lowered his voice to a murmur as he looked at Mary with his queer-looking eyes.

"Thank you, brat," he said, and Mary looked back at him with dancing eyes at his recognition.

"You're welcome," she said, careful not to mention his name, and then she and Noel went back to the table where Carolyn and Ronald were apparently chatting casually but I knew in reality were awaiting with the most hysterical anxiety the next move in the game in which they had become involved.

Dicky seated me across from him with a muttered excuse.

Outside Safest

Outside seats are the safest at just this moment," he said, adding, 'What's the matter? I was watching Milner, who had just sent something to Steve Redfield, who, in turn, was craning his neck to look at Dicky."

"Move toward the curtain," I murmured tensely. "Steve Redfield already has recognized our group, and he is now studying you at Milner's behest."

"Don't worry, Sweet," he whispered back, not moving an inch. 'There isn't a thing Milner can do about it. You see this stunt of bringing Marion here today in disguise, evidently was arranged in order to get hold of Lillian. Her refusal, at your signal, to acknowledge she was Marion's mother—oh, yes, I've been watching you!——set Marion's gangster escorts back on their heels. Also, Redfield's recognition of your party has told Milner that he doesn't dare let his henchmen go on with the snatching of Lillian until after you have left the restaurant. Now if Redfield recognizes Harry and me, Milner will realize that there's nothing he can do about snatching Lil today, so he'll give the word to his gang to lay off her."

Appeal

The corollary of his words made me gulp and then appeal to him in a frantic whisper.

'But, Dicky, won't he also tell them to get Marion out of here as quickly as possible? That will precipitate things before Father gets here. He's flying home from Washington, and he ought to be here any minute. And, I imagine he's planned the final act to be played out today."

"I know he has,' my husband returned. "But there's not a thing we can do until he gets here, unless those birds do start to take Marion away. Has she contacted you in any way? I wasn't sure, but I thought that the waiter slipped you a note of some kind."

'He did,' I returned, and don't mind my dropped eyelashes I'm watching Milner and Redfield from beneath them.'

"I know you are,' he said, a bit impatiently, 'but tell me what was in the note.'

"It asked me cute to tell me that he had received my message—she meant those persons, of course—and expected me here. She also asked to have me stand up, so that she'd know where I was—she evidently expected me to be disguised—and said that she would run to me if there was danger.'

Relief

Dicky exhaled a sigh of relief. That ties it," he said. 'Do you suppose she saw you come over here?"

'I'm sure she did, so that at least she knows I'm here now,' I assured him. 'She's looking at me attentively this very minute.'

'Then that's all right," he said. "And it's better that she runs over here than to that other table. Now, you keep watch of her, and if she starts to run to you, stand up and make way for her to slip right through this seat and into the aisle outside. Harry and I will get hold of her and rush her over to that apartment and safety. This, of course, is only in case they start to leave before the Chief gets here. When he arrives, he'll hold the reins and crack the whip."

'Yes, I understand,' I whispered breathlessly. 'But,'—unable to restrain my anxiety any longer—"what is keeping Harry? Is he all right?"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D

Seasonal Coughs

THESE late winter, early spring days are marked for most of us not so much by the finding of the first crocus or the ambulations of the ground hog as the hangovers of winter. Around most of the households open to me during this season the theme sentence is that wonderful first line in one of Ring Lardner's plays in which the curtain rises on a room in complete darkness and a voice says—'Who is that cough?'

Those German agents, too, who throng the radio, the silver screen and the mystery magazines must be getting plenty of competition from whispering patients who have lost their voices as a result of colds and influenza.

The doctors are pestered as to what to do about these disabilities. There is one certain answer. Local remedies are of limited value. Over treatment may prolong coughs and hoarseness. But you will be well again, brethren and sistren. Be patient. Time heals. When Persephone her veiled mantle spreads over all the quickening hills, and hangs her infant blossoms on the trees, and the glad earth caressed by murmuring showers wakes like a bride to deck herself with flowers—you will be well again. That cough will disappear over night. The whisper will be gone and you will leap and shout and clash your cymbals and the great hills will echo back your voice.

In the meantime let us look at the villain of the piece. For your chronic coughing and your hoarseness all originate in your larynx, your voice box, that thing in the middle of your neck, your Adam's apple.

Now the larynx is a very complicated structure. There are cartilages on the outside and inside are all sorts of stirrings and knocks—the true vocal cords and the false vocal cords with a hollow between them, and crevices all in and around these structures, so that the remnants of "that cold," or that flu," or "that bronchitis," get in these clefts and alcoves and recesses and nooks and they spawn and breed and brew and mull in a sluggish fashion and they are very hard to get out.

They sulk in these caves and colognes and foxholes and pillboxes and defy even the swab of the laryngologist. But in the course of time they all stew enough in their own meanness to kill themselves off and a few breaths of pure natural warm air instead of dry irritating air, will complete the slaughter and you will get back to normal. That is why the trip to Florida or Arizona, New Mexico or California if your conscience will permit it in these days really does the trick.

A valued friend of mine, Dr. Wolf, recognized what he called Wolf's disease. It was a bronchitis followed by cough and hoarseness, and the feature which distinguished it and made it a special entity was that it didn't get well until the patient went to a warm climate.

For the stay-at-home there remains the gargle. Now I do not enjoy knocking an old pal, nor wrecking an ardent tradition, and if you get any comfort out of a gargle God bless you, but the fact is the gargle is a hypocrite, a conny and a tittle-trapper. There is another structure called the epiglottis, which is a kind of cartilaginous lid anchored to the back of the tongue which immediately covers over the larynx and all its contents as soon as any liquid gets into the throat. If you want to know how a gargle would feel if it got to where the trouble is, just swallow some water "the wrong way." If the sore throat is higher up in the pharynx the gargle is all right.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K. T. C.:—Could a girl 13 have epileptic fits or could it be some other nervous disorder?

Answer—She could have epileptic fits or it could be some other nervous disorder. The family always likes to believe the latter.

H. M. T.—Is it true that tuberculosis germs die within arm's length of one's mouth? Some one told me that this is true, but I have always thought that the germs could live for some time in clothes, walls, mattresses, etc.

Answer: Whoever told you that should be locked up as a Public enemy. How do you suppose tuberculosis is spread if the germs die within arm's length of the mouth? Living tuberculosis germs have been found in the wrappings of a mummy buried 3,000 years ago.

Flash Gordon

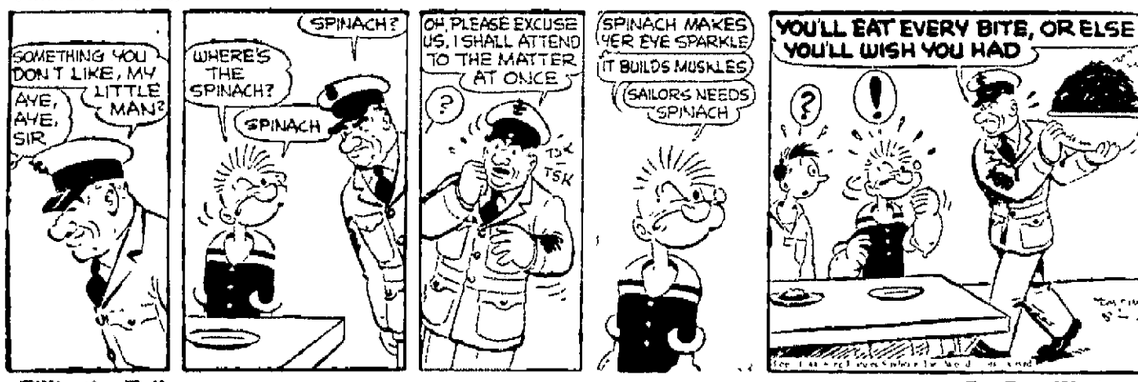
COME OUT UNARMED, FLASH, OR WE'LL KILL YOU!
TRY AND DO IT, KROM!
KROM MAKES HIS PREPARATIONS TO AMBUSH FLASH
NOW! OPEN THE DOOR ELVIN!
BUT FLASH IS READY FOR THE ELVIN GREETS THE OPENING DOOR WITH A BLAST OF DEADLY RAY-FIRE

Tim Tyler

By Lyman Young

A LARGER DOSE MIGHT'VE PROVED FATAL! HE'LL COME AROUND ALL RIGHT, BUT-
BUT MYSTERIOUSLY DRUGGED IN A THEATRE BEFORE ALL THESE WITNESSES! IT'S FANTASTIC
FACTS ARE FACTS, SIR! WE'VE ALREADY SEEN BODIES THAT APPEAR AND DISAPPEAR! - A WEIRD FIGURE IN BLACK WHO VANISHES THROUGH THE WALLS! AND NOW, SAUNDERS!
THEN THE STORIES WE'VE HEARD ARE TRUE! THIS THEATRE IS HAUNTED!
CUT THAT SILLY TALK! THIS COAST PATROL SHOW IS GOING ON, IF I PERSONALLY HAVE TO PROVE YOU'RE WRONG!
WHAT DO YOU MEAN, SIR?
I'M TAKING SAUNDER'S PLACE IN THAT SCENE!-

Thimble Theater



SOMETHING YOU DON'T LIKE, MY LITTLE MAN?
AYE, AYE, SIR
WHERE'S THE SPINACH?
SPINACH
SPINACH?
OH PLEASE EXCUSE US, I SHALL ATTEND TO THE MATTER AT ONCE
SPINACH MAKES YER EYE SPARKLE IT BUILDS MUSKLES SAILORS NEEDS SPINACH
YOU'LL EAT EVERY BITE, OR ELSE YOU'LL WISH YOU HAD

Tillie the Toiler

By Rus Westover

HELLO, BUBBLES
TILLIE, I DON'T WANT TO TALK TO YOU
BUT, BUBBLES SUPPOSE YOU'D MARRIED LOPP AND THEN FOUND OUT HE WAS A SABOTEUR
CAN YOU THINK OF ANYTHING WORSE?
SABOTEUR'S WIFE
ENEMY DICTATOR'S DWIFE
WHY, ER-
-YES, I CAN!

Toots and Casper

By Jimmy Murphy

TOOTS, I CAN'T TAKE YOU TO A MOVIE TONIGHT, DEAR
AW, GEE--
TWO BIG CUSTOMERS ARE IN TOWN AND THE BOSS WANTS ME TO HELP HIM LAND A HUGE CONTRACT FROM THEM
OFCOURSE, CASPER--BUSINESS COMES FIRST
LET ME FIX YOUR TIE, HONEY-- I WANT YOU TO LOOK NICE TONIGHT-- I'LL GET A POSY FOR YOUR BUTTON-HOLE, TOO---
THE TWO CUSTOMERS ARE LADIES, NOT MEN; BUT I HESITATE TO TELL TOOTS THAT! I FEEL CHEAP LETTING TOOTS FIX ME UP PRETTY FOR OTHER DANES, EVEN IF IT IS JUST BUSINESS

Annie Rooney

By Darrell McClure

YOU STAY HERE AND HIDE, ZERO, WHILE I GO TO GET SOMETHING TO EAT--
WE GOTTA BE TERRIBLE CAREFUL. NOBODY KNOWS ME, BUT ANYBODY WHO SAW THE CIRCUS WILL REMEMBER YOU-
I'M SORRY, MR. CARNY, TO LEAVE THE SHOW BUT MY DOCTOR INSISTED I'M ON THE VERGE OF A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN-
EVERYTHING'S GOING HAYWIRE! FIRST, ANNIE AND ZERO VANISH NOW MY STAR LADY RIDER HAS A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.
I SAW HER. SHE LOOKED MIGHTY SICK.

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus

GOLLY-WHAT A BEAUTIFUL MORNIN'-LOOK AT THE SKY-IT'S GREAT JUST TO BE ALIVE ON A DAY LIKE THIS-
I'LL STROLL THROUGH THE PARK ON THE WAY TO WORK-ON A DAY LIKE THIS I HAVEN'T A CARE IN THE WORLD-I COULD EVEN BE FRIENDLY WITH MAGGIE'S BROTHER-
DADDY-LISTEN TO THIS? THE OPERA HOUSE DID NOT CLOSE LAST NIGHT-AS PLANNED-THE SEASON WAS SO SUCCESSFUL THEY ARE EXTENDING IT ANOTHER MONTH-
SOMETIMES I WONDER IF LIFE IS WORTH LIVIN'-
